Where the data comes from

Vehicle history records in this report (title records, title brands, junk/salvage and insurance records, odometer readings, liens and theft) are provided through CarsXE, a vehicle data provider. Vehicle specifications and safety recalls come from the US National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

Limits

Records depend on what states, insurers, salvage yards and other sources have reported, and on when they reported it. Some states and some events are not covered. An empty section means no record was returned for that VIN; it is not a guarantee that no such event happened.

A vehicle history report does not include repair or service history and is NOT a substitute for an independent vehicle inspection. Before you buy a vehicle, get it inspected by a mechanic you trust.

The accuracy of the information depends on the reporting sources. All warranties, expressed or implied, including any implied warranties of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, are disclaimed.
